All successful Class Reunions have at least one "Hero" who makes it happen. SHHSAA has instituted this new Class Champions category of recognition. Class reunions are dear to the hearts of many of us. It's a place where we express our respect for that time in our lives by sharing it with those who experienced it with us. No one person pulls off a reunion but there is usually at least one or two stars who rise to the task of keeping old friends together over the long haul. As we announce the initial "Champions Category" think about those in your class who deserve that official recognition.
